Hourglass Yearbook

Yearbook Dedication

This Hourglass Yearbook is dedicated to retiring art teachers, Mrs. Marie Shack and Mrs. Suzette Durso.

The Yearbook Staff and Class of 2011 would like to thank these two outstanding individuals for their decades of service to the Wilmington community and students throughout the Wilmington Public School system.

For the past 24 years, Mrs. Shack has taught in the Wilmington Public Schools, helping students to grow as artists and as individuals. Additionally, she has served as the Visual Arts Liaison, working to provide a well-rounded arts curriculum across the district.

Mrs. Durso leaves us after 32 years of service, having built an impressive photography program here at Wilmington High School. Known for her pleasant demeanor and love for art, she will be greatly missed next year.

Both of these amazing teachers have touched the lives of Wilmington students over the years. We wish them both the best as they "graduate" with this year's senior class!

Principal's Letter

"The difference between a successful person and others is not a lack of strength, not a lack of knowledge, but rather in a lack of will."
—Vincent T. Lombardi

Success is something that you are responsible to find as you travel through life; no one can or will simply give it to you. In order to meet with success, you must be willing to be more persistent and more determined than anyone else and to take the time to understand that there is no substitute for hard work. You must also learn that taking the time to care for others will bring you more personal success than you can ever imagine.

Be willing to pause and enjoy everyone and everything that is within your personal circle. Try not to put yourself in the position of wishing you had done something else or something more. Family and loved ones must be at the precipice of your thoughts at all times. In life, when things are good or not so good, the ones you love and who truly love you will be right by your side. In reality, that is probably the best measure of your success as a person.

Look forward to your future successes. Use the tools you have learned throughout your time here as you begin to take the first steps of your journey through life. Be willful like Lombardi advises, and use your strength and knowledge more efficiently and effectively. Congratulations and good luck to all of you!

Mr. Eric Tracy
Principal

For most students, freshman year of high school can be a scary and nerve-racking experience. But then again, the members of the Class of 2011 are not most students. No longer big fish in the small pond of middle school, the Class of 2011 entered high school eager and determined to make a name for themselves in their new surroundings. Starting off the year with a splash, elections were quickly held for class officers. Cody Nielsen was elected as President, along with vice President Sean Woodbury, Secretary Heather Kealos, and Treasurer Dennis Murphy. Getting down to business with the help of class advisors, Ms. Tashjian and Ms. Thomas, the class officers put together many fundraisers, including selling Candy Grams and hosting Wilmington High School's first ever Freshman Class Dance. Showing off their school spirit during Spirit Week and Pep Rallies, joining a plethora of clubs, and excelling on sports teams, the class seemed to hold their own against the upperclassmen. With continued dedication and determination, the Class of 2011 would find great things in store during their time at WHS.

Sophomore year proved to be a year of change both inside and outside of Wilmington High School. During a historic election, the country elected Barack Obama as its first African American president; while in school, the Class of 2011 elected four new class officers: Kay Tummino as President, Cat Parrella as Vice President, Nicole Neville as Secretary, and Amy Caira as Treasurer. Like the officers before them, the girls got right to work planning fundraisers to benefit their class in the near future. Spring Fling, the year's most successful fundraiser, was enjoyed by all as it served a welcome break from the dreaded sophomore research paper and the MCAS exam. Outside of school, the town of Wilmington was honored to host the Vietnam Memorial Moving Wall, which the students at WHS had the opportunity to experience first-hand. In addition, the residents of Wilmington demonstrated just how strong a community could be as they fought against cancer in Wilmington's first annual Relay for Life event, sponsored by the American Cancer Society. As the year came to an end, it was clear that although this year was truly one to remember, the best was yet to come in the next two years for the Class of 2011.

Junior year was both an exciting and crazy time for the Class of 2011. As the class became busy with the SAT and ACT exams, as well as college visits and applications, Wilmington High School was in the midst of its accreditation process. When the accreditation team visited the school, a handful of juniors had the privilege of participating in the process by being part of a student panel, earning praise from both teachers and administration for their assistance. Before junior year began, Kay Tummino, Cat Parrella, Nicole Neville, and Amy Caira were all re-elected to their same class offices and from the beginning of the school year, the focus was put on planning a spectacular Junior Prom. Two of the year's biggest fundraisers were Cat Country t-shirts designed by Kevin Mitchell and Santa Maria Pizza. The Burlington Courtyard Marriott was the location for a spectacular Junior Prom in March. At the end of junior year, as the Class of 2011 prepared for a fun-filled summer and the senior year ahead, WHS prepared for the retirement of Mr. Nee, a dedicated Assistant Principal who was a favorite with the students.

At last the 2010-2011 school year rolled around, and with it came the much-anticipated Senior Year. Along with the excitement of once again being the "big fish" in the pond, the Class of 2011 couldn't help but look back and realize that the words spoken by Mr. Tracy freshman year were true: their time here at Wilmington High School had flew by. Determined to make their last year one to remember, the Class of 2011 set out to do some work and have some fun. While Vice President Cat Parrella, Secretary Nicole Neville, and Treasurer Amy Caira were re-elected from the previous year, Heather Kealos made a welcome addition as Class President, stepping into the role with ease. Along with a new Class President, came a new Assistant Principal. Mr. Mahoney joined the WHS staff with enthusiasm and has become a great addition to the school's administration. The year was off to a good start with a successful fundraiser at the 99 Restaurant, followed by one planned at Chili's, Wilmington's newest eatery. Although the Mr. and Miss WHS competition was not a Senior Class fundraiser, that did not stop the overwhelming senior participation. Co-hosts Kellie Moon and Marilyn Manos brought the stage to life between acts while fellow senior Jess Weaver won the coveted title of Miss WHS with her crowd-pleasing karate demonstration. WHS athletes continued to shine on the fields and courts and several teams could boast impressive records by the end of their seasons. The drama guild's production of Children of Eden was a big hit, featuring the outstanding vocal performances of several members of the senior class including Kelly Duffy, Kia Dunn, and Sean Woodbury. This year, school spirit was around every corner as seen by the incredible costumes and decorations during Spirit Week, as well as by Wilmington High School's first ever school-wide ugly holiday sweater contest, which took place the day before winter break and was organized entirely by Zack Sears. In lieu of a Prom Fashion Show, the Class of 2011 decided to try a new venture by hosting a Prom Expo Night, with the help of Emily Stebbins and Mary Kate Mogan. The Expo made for a fun night which got everyone excited about the upcoming prom season. Speaking of prom, a fun and memorable Senior Prom was held at the Crowne Plaza on May 13th, with the help of Valerie Albano, Allison Dancewicz, and Ana Perullo. Prom, along with several other fun senior events topped off an unforgettable final year for the Class of 2011.

Junior Prom for the Class of 2011 was nothing short of extraordinary. On March 26, 2010, the night was filled with dancing, music, smiles and laughter. As the night continued Mike Amentola and Allison Dancewicz were named Prom King and Queen, while James Johnston, Larissa Pienkowski, Kia Dunn, and Cody Nilsen were appointed as members of the court. The dancing didn't stop until the lights came up and the doors closed, making the 2010 Junior Prom one of the most memorable moments for this senior class.

spirit week...

Early in October, Wilmington High School students showed their dedication to the school with WHS's annual Spirit Week celebration.

The week kicked off with Armed Forces Day, and continued on with Sports Day the following day. On the 2nd to last day Wilmington High was buzzing with spirit and excitement with Class Day. Freshmen walked the halls decked out in Decade attire ranging from the Stone Age up into the future. Sophomores rocked Western Day attire, and paraded in the hallways with cowboy boots, cowboy hats, and even Native American-themed moccasins of all colors and sizes. Juniors took on a Celebrity Look-a-Like challenge where Taylor Swift, Dolly Parton and even a Michael Jackson or two could be spotted sitting at lunch or scurrying to class. Seniors continued the tradition of a Halloween theme, wearing a myriad of costumes including police officers, ninja turtles and even a few Hogwarts students.

As always the week finished with Blue and White Day, where students of all grades decked out in blue and white clothes, reeked of paint and hairspray, and paraded through the hallways leaving blue footprints behind them.

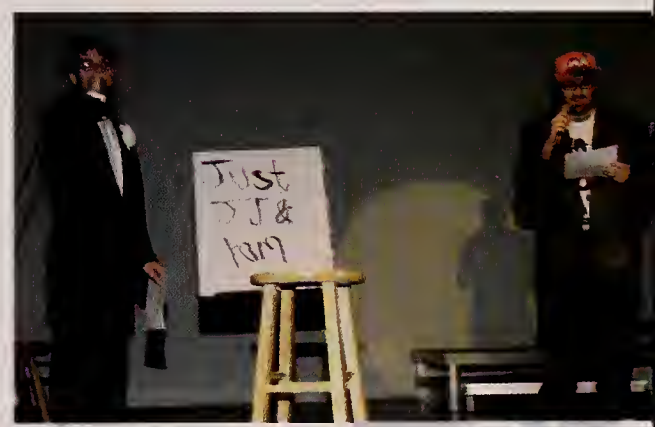
mr. & ms. whs...

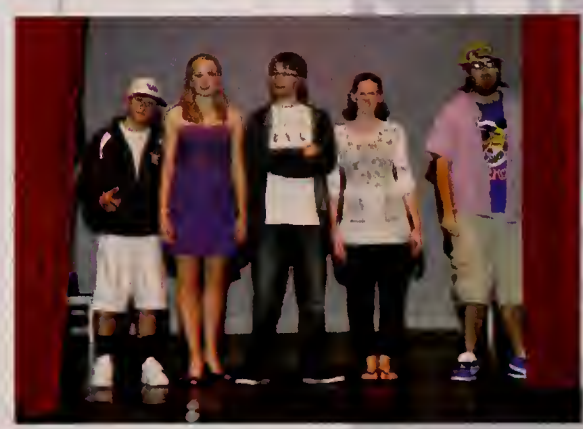
Mr. and Ms. WHS is always a spectacle for students and parents, and the competition on November10, 2010 was no exception. Students and parents watched with eager eyes as the contestants took the WHS Auditorium by storm. Seniors Meaghan Wamboldt and Ellie Steen choreographed a dance piece for the contestants to perform, while other skits and demonstrations of talent ranged from comedy to rapping and singing and dancing.

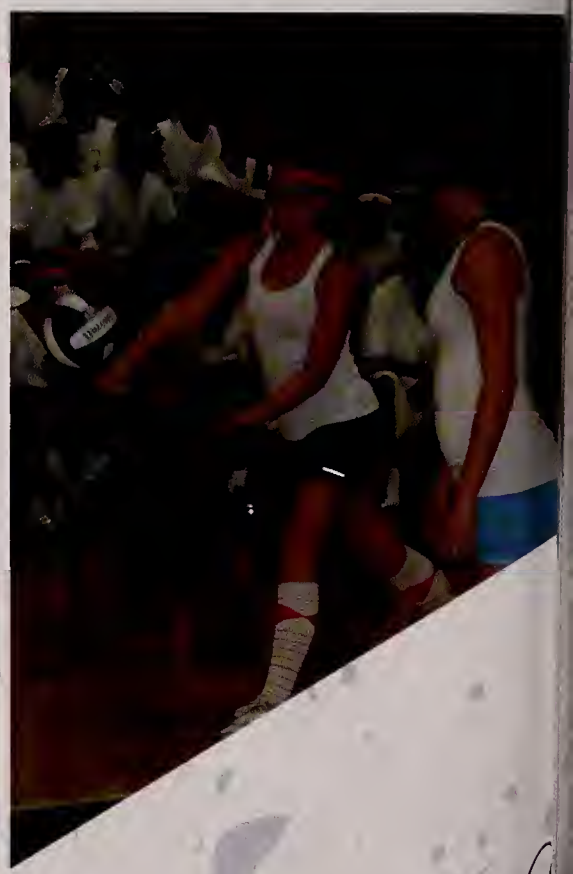
As the night concluded, senior Jessica Weaver was named Ms. WHS thanks to an astounding karate demonstration where she chopped boards in half. Junior Phil Lentini brought home his second Mr. WHS title with a live, on-stage recreation of a Nintendo's Super Mario Brothers game level, in which he collected coins and crushed mushrooms, before reaching the castle.

This year's Mr. and Ms. WHS competition was truly an awe inspiring event for not only the class of 2011, but for everyone in attendance.

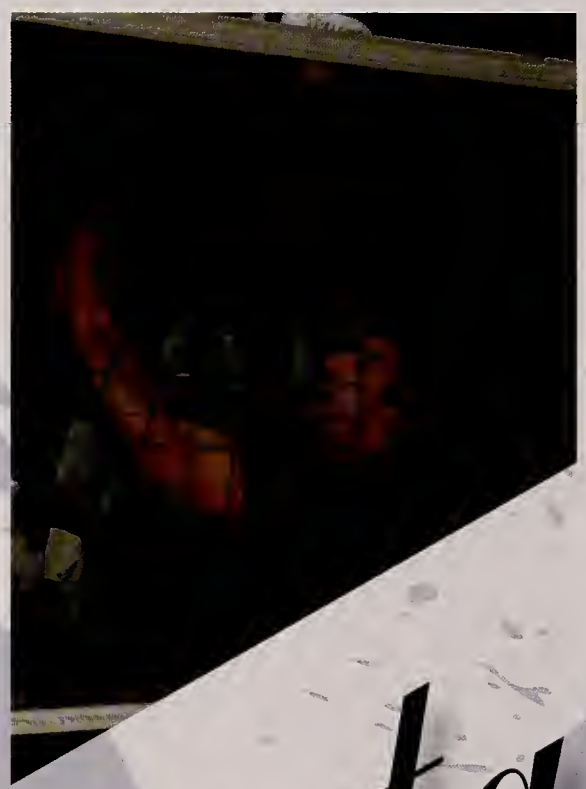
november 2010







The first of two "seniors verses faculty" events, the annual Seniors vs. Staff Volleyball game was held on Tuesday, November 23, 2010. While seniors decked out in fun, self-produced uniforms, the faculty opted to sport their Dig Pink shirts, showing their support to both the WHS volleyball program and breast cancer awareness.



Unfortunately for the seniors, the faculty once again dominated in this match-up. Here's hoping for a better result at the Seniors vs. Faculty Basketball game in April!

This year, the Senior vs. Faculty Basketball Game can be found in the 2011 Hourglass Yearbook Supplement!

Seniors take on

This year's talent show at WHS had a large variety of skilled performers from dancers and musicians, to jugglers and poets. All of the contestants were bursting with excitement to show the audience and judges their special talents. First place winner this year was Allison Dancewicz with her jazz dance routine. Second place winners were Cody Nilson and John Grealish with Cody's original song "Concrete." Third place winners were Ryan Collette, Mike Mullens and Luke MacNeil, who covered Grand Funk RR's "Sin's a Good Man's Brother" in addition to an original piece.

All of the contestants proved to be extremely gifted in their various niches, and the audience enjoyed the entire evening of acts. A special thanks goes out to Ms. Kassin and Mrs. Hooper, who were the advisors and coordinators behind this event. Proceeds from the night went to support the Science Club and the Class of 2014.

After taking last year off, the Foreign Language Club once again hosted their bi-annual Culture Festival. Taking over the entire cafeteria, this year's event was packed with students, faculty, friends and family looking to celebrate the various countries and cultures around the world. Bouncing from display to display and nation to nation, visitors spent the evening enjoying an assortment of treats while learning more about our global community.

Awards were presented to the students who best represented their given countries. Sporting festive attire and supplementing their table displays with impressive performances certainly helped to boost votes with the judges, but in the end only three of the thirty-five countries represented could win. At the end of the night, the 1st, 2nd and 3rd places winners were India, Bulgaria and Egypt respectively!

With a record breaking attendance, the next festival will need to book the Shriner's auditorium!

FOOTBALL

WHS football had another successful year this year going 8-3. The team was lead by captains Sean Hanley, Brian Hurley, Kevin Moriarty and Gordon Fitch. Despite the team's toughest schedule in years, they were able to pull off a good record. Strong leadership and many talented players is what carried this team. Although the team fell short of its goal for making the playoffs, these athletes had accomplished plenty. Their biggest achievement may have been giving Masco their first Cape Ann league loss since 2007. Overall, it was a fun and successful year for the Wildcat football team.

Final Record: 7-2

CHEERLEADING

This was a great year for the Wilmington High School Cheerleading. During the football season, we placed first at CALS, and also competed at Regionals and States. This year's team included seniors Christa Monteforte, Stephanie Mazzie, and Macy Harper and was led by captains Megan Torres, Lindsey McCarthy, Catherine Parrella, and Shannon Murphy.

The girls all bonded a lot this year and overall they had a great season. Go Wildcats!

The soccer team yet again had a successful season having an 11-5-3 record and qualifying for the state tournament. After losing twelve seniors from last year's team, many did not expect the boys' soccer team to make another run at a Cape Ann League title. With a very young and inexperienced team, they still managed to finish 2nd in the league losing only to Masco by a single point. The team was led by Captains and All–Conference players Nick Godzyk and Andy Owens, as well as fellow Captain and All Star Chris DiCecca. John Malone also played a great season in net and was recognized as an All Star as well. Seniors Cam Garrant and Shayne Kinsella anchored down the team's defense. The young Wildcats have a lot of potential for the seasons to come. Congrats on a great season.

Final Record: 11-4-3

GIRLS SOCCER

The Girls Varsity Soccer Team had to endure a rebuilding year with a very young team, but still had a good season. Unfortunately, they did not qualify for the state tournament this year, but certainly proved themselves as a strong contender with twelve new players. The team was led by captains Erin Cowden, Heather Kealos, and Lauren Zaremba along with other seniors Jess Maienza and Maye Randall. The talents of junior Alexa Brown and senior Lauren Zaremba were also acknowledged as Cape Ann League All Stars.

Final Record: 3-10-5

The Varsity Golf Team finished with an overall record of 6-7 in their final year in the Cape Ann League. After a rocky start, they finished rather strong to qualify themselves for the state tournament as their C.A.L record was right on the .500 mark. It was considered another successful season by Coach Steve Lynch as they achieved their goal of reaching states at Far Corners Country Club. The team was lead by seniors Andrew Spurr (captain), Tyler Strem, Adam Martiniello and juniors John Keough, Dalton Rolli, Dan Keane, and Steve Taylor. Everyone had another progressive year to work on their skills and make themselves better players to improve for the future. Foreign Language Club is dedicated to expanding the views of Wilmington High School students and introducing them to cultures other than their own. While the club focuses on the languages and nationalities of many of our members, we also introduce members to the food and customs of exotic countries that they would not normally have the chance to experience.

Model UN
Advisor: Matthew Hackett

Model UN/Debate Club gives students the opportunity to discover, through simulation, how the United Nations works to collectively promote world peace and cooperate on a variety of international issues. The main focus of the club is preparation for conferences, in which each student is assigned a country and a council of the UN. Student delegates then debate a current international affair and must work to compromise and pass a resolution. This year, our club attended conferences at St. John's High School, St. John's Prep, and Boston College High School in addition to running our own in-school practice conferences.

The senior class officers have worked incredibly hard to raise money and plan events to make everyone's senior year memorable. This year there was the first ever prom expo that had raffles, ice-cream, and an area where students could vote on a prom song and theme. Multiple restaurant fundraisers, senior vs. faculty basketball game, and many other fundraisers took place to raise money for the prom. The class officers have spent countless hours planning the prom focusing on every detail. This year the prom was held at the Crowne Plaza in Danvers on Friday may 13th 2011. The four years of high school have been a time in life none of us will ever forget. They would like to thank the 2011 class advisers, Ms. Thomas and Ms. Tashjian, for all they have done for the class.

In Your Honor

Poem by Ms. Linda Peters

Recited at the 2011 National Honor Society Induction

I lead a simple life, filled with family and friends
And like everyone else beginnings and ends
But on top of all of that I share each day with you
And I wish everyone could feel as blessed as I do

Wilmington High School; your home for 4 years
The home of highs and lows and laughs and tears
Victories, defeats, struggle and success
Have helped shape the value that you all possess

And despite all of the bumps and hardships you sometimes face
You've managed to lead with integrity and grace
And every time you've been knocked down, and forced to fall
You've been able to stand up again triumphantly tall

Twitter and Facebook, languages I can't speak
Wall posts and tweets, to me it's all Greek
And yet in this technology, mechanical driven day
Remember it's your minds and your hearts that will help you pave the way

From derivatives to Shakespeare, you've passed the test
Your dedication has placed you above the rest
I hope you know there is no goal you can't reach
And I thank you for giving me a reason to teach

Whether it be your passion or not the course work you complete
Will lead you to infinite opportunities and maybe even a treat
For you will evolve every day that you live
If you are ready and willing and able to give

And all that you have led to this day
A crowning achievement that cannot be taken away
So without any more babbling or further ado
It is time that I proudly pay tribute to you

May the good lord be with you Down every road you roam And may sunshine and happiness Surround you when you're far from home And may you grow to be proud Dignified and true And do unto others As you'd have done to you Be courageous and be brave And in my heart you'll always stay Forever young, forever young Forever young, forever young May good fortune be with you May your guiding light be strong Build a stairway to heaven With a prince or a vagabond And may you never love in vain And in my heart you will remain Forever young, forever young Forever young And when you finally fly away I'll be hoping that I served you well For all the wisdom of a lifetime No one can ever tell But whatever road you choose I'm right behind you, win or lose Forever young, forever young For, forever young, forever young
